

Monday, May 10

Online Exhibitor Expo and Attendee Networking Opens

Open until the close of the conference June 11.

PH2021 PASSIVE HOUSE FOR ALL CONFERENCE PROGRAM

125 W 18th Street, NY, NY
www.naphnconference.org

Thursday, June 10

Noon – 1 PM ET

Opening Plenary – Passive House: a global community of action

Welcomes, updates & keynote. To be announced.

1:30 – 2:30 PM ET

As Goes The City Of Exeter, So Goes The United Kingdom: experience Passive House acceleration

The story, the lessons learned and what is on the horizon in a journey of Passive House transformation.

Nuutsumut Lelum: Passive House multifamily in service of an Indigenous community

An elegant solution addresses a complex context and supports community.

Designing to Scale Retrofits: a quest to make existing buildings climate solutions

From NYC public housing to Syracuse University – NYSERDA is driving replicable low-energy retrofit solutions.

3 – 4 PM ET

Let's Make a Passive House Deal: how does your banker get to "yes"

Value, risk, Passive House certification and getting deals done. A panel discussion on what lenders think about.

EnerPHit Retrofits to New Heights: a multifamily tower is reborn

Landmark Ken Soble tower, undergoes a modernization program to secure quality housing for seniors.

Pride of Place: Investing in Downtown Transformation

New York State's Downtown Revitalization initiative is transforming downtown neighborhoods into vibrant communities..

4:30 – 5:30 PM ET

Practice, Passive House & Priorities: the new meanings of work balance

How do we support solutions to our social justice, health & climate crises, in our work, and projects. A panel discussion.

Passive House Building Certification: quality assurance you can take to the bank Discover how building certification impacts performance, costs and timelines. Access institutional knowledge driving quality assurance.

Breaking Ground's Betances Residences: community, affordable housing & Passive House

Enlisting Passive House in effort to address chronic homelessness with affordable housing paired with wraparound services.

Friday, June 11

9:30 – 10:30 AM ET

School, School & More School: a process of continual Passive House learning

Science, culture and communities are the ingredients of a leading architectural firm's approach to Passive House schools.

Feeding the Masses: making Passive House commercial kitchens work

Trailblazing project applications turn a difficult function into a supporting player. Find out how.

All Aboard the Passive House Train: strategies for training, employment and shared accomplishment

As Passive House grows discover how we can upskill our workforce, provide good jobs, and make high performance results the norm.

11 AM – Noon ET

Not Your Familiar Big Box Retailer: Passive House supermarkets

Take a deep dive into this emerging building type and find out how our "green retailers" can do much, much better.

The Future of Affordable Housing: an examination of modular versus traditional site-build

One architecture firm, two similar projects, two different approaches. Learn what they're learning.

Home on the Prairie: an American archetype remade for 2050 & beyond

From Indigenous teepees, to settler cabins, a home on the prairie is fundamental. A leading practice rethinks it for the Anthropocene.

Noon – 1 PM ET

Lunch

1 – 2 PM ET

Excellence for Everyone: examples from NYSERDA's market transforming building program

A $40 million multi-round competition with many Passive House winners to learn from. Take a close look at a few of them.

Keeping it Real: the Passive House Standard meets American builders

Contractor concerns, priorities and how Passive House contractor training can effectively close gaps and sensibly elevate all work.

Zero-Carbon Emissions: a target with teeth

In the global transition to "outcome-based codes", regulating embodied carbon is also being considered. Find out the where, what and why, and how the Passive House community is supporting.

2:30 – 3:30 PM ET

Small-Town EnerPHit: sustainable energy funding meets sustainable community building

A triple-bottom-line investment, revitalizes a downtown property, provides local job training and material sourcing.

Passive House Community Amenity: The Clayton Community Centre

Community centers are often ambitious, serving a diversity of populations, needs and desires. Add Passive House and great design.

Where the Rubber Meets the Road: handing Passive House buildings over to operations & management

Find out why, after the Passive House is built, the critical question is: Are operations and management staff trained and ready?

4 – 5:15 PM ET

Closing Plenary

Defining Sustainable Community For All: discovering pathways forward

A panel discussion on the intersections of development, environmental justice, Passive House and our common future.